SHARING OUR STORY, SALT RIVER CULTURAL IMMERSION

October thru March

Native American tribes vary widely in lifestyle, customs, and art, but during pow-wow season, they all come together to celebrate

Yellow Bird Productions Native American Dance Showcase

thru song and dance and the result is breathtaking. Attend Arizona's largest pow-wow gathering, the Red Mountain Eagle Pow-Wow, held annually with over 400 dancers, and the best drum groups in the country. Authentic Native American arts and crafts line the perimeter of the event, along with vendors providing all variations of Native cuisine. The highlight of the event is held on Saturday night when all the lights are turned off and select dancers dance via spotlight!

Each weekend, the Talking Stick Resort features the

Yellow Bird Productions Native American Dance Showcase celebrating Native

American culture with dancing, stories and music. Hop aboard the trolley for the Salt River Art Tour with Salt River Indian Community Member artist Jeffrey Fulwilder who shares his vision of the designs of several Native American inspired steel sculptures installed throughout the Talking Stick Entertainment District. Meet artists and learn about their inspiration at the Native Art Market each weekend at the Pavilions at Talking Stick. This seasonal event features Native American artists from various Arizona tribes as well as cultural performances and frybread. Awaken your senses and discover Arizona Indian Country in a whole new way at Salt River.

SALT RIVER CARES VOLUNTURISM EXPERIENCES

Anytime

Farming has been practiced by both the O'odham and Piipaash in Salt River and today we have 4 active agriculture leases within the Community, yet it is no longer a way of life. To ensure the survival and continued use of plants historically gathered by the tribes, guests will work alongside Salt River Pima Maricopa Community Member Jacob Butler, to plant trees in the Salt River Community Garden or ancient seeds in garden beds. The tour will work with the Environmental Protection and Natural Resources staff of the Salt River Pima Maricopa Indian Community to help maintain the Community's Salt River Wetlands and Riparian area trails by painting a river rock to add bright, beautiful color along the trails or helping build bridges, plant trees or remove invasive plants. For a much needed post-work respite, we'll head to neighboring Singh Meadows for a stroll of delicious seasonal finds in their fresh, locally sourced farmer's market known for their organic veggies, fruits, herbs, baked goods, jam, jellies and spreads. Picnic blankets and outside seating provided.
